We are a Nut Free School ! Due to children having severe reactions, please don't send in foods containing peanuts. Thank You

Dear Parents and Carers,

Igam ogam is a favourite Welsh word of mine. It means Zig-zag. Please be mindful of parking on the zig zags at the end of the school drive as this is illegal. Police have been carrying out checks at other schools. More importantly keeping them clear, keeps our children safe. Please read the letter regarding scarlet fever and Strep A.

Bronze Reading awards - keep reading and sharing, however no Bronze Awards this week.

Following on from the Parent survey at the start of the year, next term we would like to focus how we share information with you. If you have any strong preference as to how we share information, please contact school.

Thank you to those who have completed the consent form and paid towards the Panto next week. If you have not yet done so, please complete as soon as possible. We will start to individually message but we really should not have to! If you are having difficulty in paying for the trip, please contact school directly.

Friday 16th December is Panto Time! The whole school will be visiting William Aston Hall in Wrexham to watch a Pantomime, performed by the Delta Dance Academy.

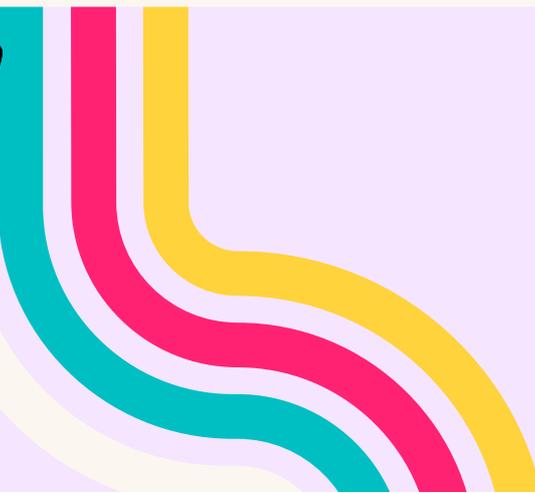

Tickets cost £7 per child with FoBs very kindly offering to pay for the transport. Please click here to complete an online consent form which will also provide a link for you to make a contribution towards the tickets through ParentPay. Should we not have enough contributions for the cost of the tickets, we may have to cancel the trip.

BRONINGTON BULLETIN

"Just to say a great big thank you from Holy Trinity Church for the lovely Angels the children have made.

They have been put on the branch at the back of the church as you walk in and look so pretty.

Also another big thank you for the prayers written by the children and so beautifully illustrated.

They will be the ones read for the Christingle service on Sunday, and afterwards will be put somewhere in church for all to see over the Christmas Festival.

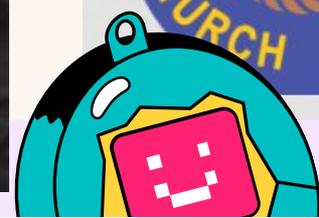

We do hope children and their families will come to see the Angels and have a Christingle on Sunday, service starts at 4 pm.

Sending a very sincere thank you to all the Teachers and pupils involved in these activities.

Lorna Honick, Worship Leader. "

PC Hulley came into school today to talk to each class:

The Welsh Government is currently reviewing its guidance on school attendance and is keen to include the views of parents and carers in this work. Working with Parentkind, they would like to hear from any parents and carers with a child who currently has, or has previously had issues with poor attendance so that they can better support young people.

Understanding the symptoms of iGAS and Scarlet Fever

Treat at home

If your child has any of the following:

- Sore throat
- Headache

Cold and flu like symptoms are very common at this time of year, especially in children.

Read more

Most will have a common seasonal virus, which can be treated at home by keeping the child hydrated, and with paracetamol.

Contact NHS 111 Wales

If your child also develops any of the following:

- Fever
- Nausea or vomiting
- A fine red rash, which typically first appears on the chest and stomach. Older children may not have the rash.

Contact NHS 111 Wales or your GP for advice.

Contact GP straight away

If your child has any of the following:

- Fever (a high temperature above 38°C)
- Severe muscle aches
- Localised muscle tenderness
- Redness at the site of a wound

Contact your GP or get medical advice straight away.

Dear parents/carers,

Invasive group A streptococcal infection (iGAS)

As you are aware, there have been a number of reports in the press regarding iGAS. We appreciate this will be of concern to you, therefore we are sharing with you below the advice that schools have received from Public Health Wales.

The recommended actions are:

- Schools are to be aware of the possibility of this infection in children who become ill with a fever, sore throat or rash
- Parents of unwell children should be advised to seek medical advice for diagnosis and treatment
- A person with scarlet fever should withdraw from the school setting for 24 hours after the commencement of appropriate antibiotic treatment
- Good hand hygiene and avoidance of spread of respiratory secretions (as per influenza – ‘catch it, bin it, kill it’) can help to prevent the spread of infection

Signs and symptoms of scarlet fever

Scarlet fever, sometimes called scarlatina, is an infectious disease caused by group A streptococcus (GAS) bacteria.

It is highly infectious and can be caught through direct contact with an infected person or through the air via droplets from coughs or sneezes.

The characteristic symptom of scarlet fever is a widespread, fine pink-red rash that feels like sandpaper to touch. Other symptoms includes a high temperature, a flushed face and a red, swollen tongue. Treatment is straightforward and usually involves a course of penicillin antibiotics. Complications of scarlet fever and streptococcal infection. Most cases of scarlet fever cause no complications, especially if the condition is properly treated. However, complications in the early stages of the disease can include ear infection, throat abscess, sinusitis, pneumonia and meningitis. Very rare complications include rheumatic fever, kidney damage, liver damage, bone infection, blood poisoning and toxic shock syndrome which can be life-threatening. Early signs of invasive disease include: high fever, severe muscle aches, local muscle tenderness, or redness at the site of a wound. If you have concerns about invasive disease, then urgent medical advice must be sought.

The advice to parents is:

- Contact your GP, visit 111.wales.nhs.uk, or call NHS 111 Wales
- Make sure your child takes the full course of any antibiotics prescribed by the doctor
- Keep your child at home, away from nursery, school or work and follow any guidance provided by your GP on how long they should remain absent from these settings
- Find up-to-date information and advice on streptococcal A infections at 111.wales.nhs.uk.

I hope this letter reassures you that we will remain vigilant and notify you in the event that your child displays any symptoms during the school day. The information provided also enables you to familiarise yourself with the symptoms of scarlet fever and iGAS as a precaution.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Austin Bowers
